PETITIONING THE COURT

To modify the conditions of supervision as follows: withdraw special condition of supervision 20.

- 20 If directed by the supervising probation officer, you shall reside in a community corrections center for a period of up to 180 days. You shall abide by the rules and requirements of that facility and remain at that facility until discharged by the Court.

CAUSE

On September 12, 2007, the defendant's term of supervised release was revoked by the Court. He was sentenced to a year and a day, followed by a term of supervised release of 37 months and 29 days. Mr. Scroggins contacted the undersigned officer while in the custody of the Bureau of Prisons inquiring about special condition 20, referenced above. He indicated that he was unaware that the condition was imposed by the Court, and had spoken to his attorney in the matter who did not recall the Court making a statement regarding his placement at a community corrections center. Further, he stated that he could release to the residence of Christina Martinez, who is the mother of his child, in Kennewick, Washington. He requested the undersigned officer consult the Court, and determine if the condition was intended.

After consulting with the Court, it is respectfully requested that Your Honor withdraw the above special condition of supervision. Mr. Scroggins has made several attempts in the past to transition through a community corrections center without success, and appears to have an appropriate release address where he can reside with his family.
